NOTICE: JSIC - MASTER BRIEFING
Wednesday 12 November 2008 10am – 1pm
 Wilson Room, Portcullis House, Victoria Embankment, SW1A QAA
 [Nearest Station: Westminster. Entrance: Victoria Embankment]
Host/Chairman; Rt Hon Bruce George MP
Theme: Britain, its Security and the Global Marketplace
 (A forward looking review of the security environment, the challenges and responses of the industry over the next decade.)

The UK based security industry faces challenges from entrepreneurs from Europe and further afield that have global ambitions and enjoy competitive advantage in the production of goods and services. What will the security landscape and trading conditions be like in say ten or twenty year's time?

Leading experts on the economic and structural impact of changes and current trends and their foreseeable effect on the security sector will address these challenges, the opportunities created by the continuing dominance of security concerns in society across the world, and the steps being taken to ensure commercial success for UK Plc.

A distinguished panel of speakers including representatives of the public and private security sectors the Cabinet Office Civil Contingencies Secretariat, the Olympics Development Authority and the Institute of Criminal Justice Studies, University of Portsmouth, will address relevant issues in the context of the present security and economic situation.

The Briefing is an opportunity to explore the challenges and influences that will confront the industry in the decade ahead and suggest measures to enable management to respond appropriately.

Full details will be announced shortly and may also be found on the JSIC web site: www.jsic.org.uk

ATTENDANCE IS FREE: To reserve a place, please do so early to avoid disappointment as there is limited capacity.
